

RRD Asia and Hexing Packaging are excited to announce the entrance into a strategic partnership to offer better integrated end-to-end packaging solutions to clients throughout the world.

As a well-known and large-scale comprehensive packaging company in China, Hexing has long been a leader in corrugated packaging in Asia. The RRD/HXPP partnership brings together in-depth cooperation in a wide range of products and corresponding solutions to bring newer experiences, higher value and better services, and thus to accelerate the development and growth of business.

This partnership will also expand both parties' layout planning in some new fields and participation in the investment and operation of the upstream and downstream of the industry (value) chain.
